Re: Opinion Request Concerning Chapter 176 of the Texas Local Government Code

Dear General Abbott:

Please accept this letter as a request pursuant to Texas Government Code Section 402.042 for an opinion from your office for clarification on the interpretation of House Bill 914, 79th Legislature, Regular Session, codified as Chapter 176 of the Texas Local Government Code ("Chapter 176"). Chapter 176 creates conflicts of interest disclosure requirements for "local government officers" and persons who contract or seek to contract with "local governmental entities" for the sale or purchase of property, goods, or services.¹ The statute's disclosure requirements became effective on January 1, 2006, and the statute carries criminal penalties for persons who fail to comply with the disclosure requirements.²

- ... (A) a member of the governing body of a local governmental entity; or
- (B) a director, superintendent, administrator, president or other person designated as the executive officer of the local governmental entity.

TEX. LOC. GOV'T CODE ANN. § 176.001(4) (Vernon Supp. 2005). Chapter 176 defines a "local governmental entity" as

- ... a county, municipality, school district, junior college district, or other political subdivision of this state or a local government corporation, board, commission, district or authority to which a member is appointed by the commissioners court of a county, the mayor of a municipality or the governing body of a municipality. . . .

TEX. LOC. GOV'T CODE ANN. § 176.001(3).

² See TEX. LOC. GOV'T CODE ANN. § 176.003(c) (Vernon Supp. 2005) (stating that it is a Class C misdemeanor if a local government officer knowingly violates the section); TEX. LOC. GOV'T CODE ANN. § 176.004(3) (stating that a local government officer must acknowledge the conflicts disclosure statement under oath under penalty of perjury); TEX. LOC. GOV'T CODE ANN. § 176.006(f) (stating that it is a Class C misdemeanor if a person who contracts or seeks to contract with a local governmental entity violates the section).

The Texas Ethics Commission has promulgated a form conflicts disclosure statement for use by local government officers and a form conflict of interest questionnaire for use by persons who contract or seek to contract with local governmental entities as required by Chapter 176. However, we understand that the Ethics Commission has taken the position that it does not have jurisdiction to interpret Chapter 176. Therefore, we respectfully request an opinion clarifying the following issues:

1. What is the appropriate definition of the term "business relationship,"³ a term used in Chapter 176 to trigger disclosure requirements for local government officers? Does this term include personal or business interest bearing savings accounts which generate taxable interest for the local government officer or a family member?
2. What are the appropriate definitions of "affiliation"⁴ and "business relationships,"⁵ terms used in Chapter 176 to trigger disclosure requirements for persons who contract or seek to contract with local governmental entities? Do these terms include personal or business loans which generate taxable interest for certain vendors, such as financial institutions?
3. What does the phrase "any other affiliation or business relationship that might cause a conflict of interest,"⁶ a phrase used in Chapter 176 to trigger disclosure requirements for persons who contract or seek to contract with local governmental entities, encompass?
4. Whether Chapter 176 applies to professional services providers.
5. How long should a local governmental entity retain the conflicts disclosure statements and conflicts of interest questionnaires under Chapter 176? How long should such documents remain available on a local governmental entity's website?
6. Whether the disclosure requirements of Chapter 176, as applicable to a partnership or corporation which seeks to contract or contracts with a local governmental entity, apply solely to the partnership or corporation as a whole, or whether the disclosure requirements apply to some or all of the individual partners and/or employees of the entity contracting or seeking to contract with a local governmental entity who may be working on a contract.
7. Would a person seeking to contract with a local governmental entity comply with the requirements of Chapter 176 if the person discloses affiliations and business relationships with all business entities disclosed by the local governmental entity to the person as having a triggering relationship with a local government officer and discloses affiliations and business relationships with all employees and outside contractors disclosed by the local governmental entity to the person as making recommendations concerning the proposed contract, even if that disclosure proves to be incomplete or the local governmental entity fails to make any such disclosure despite the person's request, absent actual knowledge of the person to the contrary?

8. What does the phrase "contracts or seeks to contract for the sale or purchase of property, goods or services with a local governmental entity,"⁷ a phrase triggering disclosure requirements under Chapter 176, encompass? Does Chapter 176 apply to small or routine purchases?

9. Whether local governmental entities have a responsibility to require persons who contract or seek to contract with local governmental entities to comply with Chapter 176 prior to entering into a contract with the local governmental entity? Would the failure of a contractor to comply with the requirements of Chapter 176 have any impact on the validity of a contract between the local governmental entity and the contractor?

10. Whether Chapter 176 requires a person who contracts or seeks to contract with a local governmental entity to file a disclosure questionnaire if the person has no business or financial relationships or affiliations to disclose.

The legislative intent of H.B. 914, which added Chapter 176, is to increase transparency and accountability of government by requiring the disclosure of certain business and financial relationships that local government officials may have with persons contracting with the local government. H.B. 914 provides local government officials and taxpayers access to information concerning these business or financial relationships or affiliations and thus provides a more accurate account of the allocation of tax dollars.

Thank you for your consideration of these issues. If we can be of any assistance, please let us know. We look forward to your reply.

Kind regards,

Beverly Woolley

Attachment to Conflict of Interest Questionnaire:

This completed questionnaire is being submitted on behalf of the Allied Waste Industries, Inc. subsidiary or affiliate listed in #1 of this questionnaire and the authorized employees who act on its behalf ("Allied"). Allied is a solid waste management service provider to the local governmental entity with whom this document is being submitted, in connection with existing and proposed solid waste management contracts. The filing of this document is intended to affirm that neither the Allied entity (the 'person doing business with the local government agency') nor any of the employees who are acting on its behalf have any "affiliations or business relationships" with any local governmental officials as those terms are used in Chapter 176 of the Local Government Code of the State of Texas, House Ethics Commission.

From time to time certain authorized employees of the company have business or social contacts with local governmental officials in connection with pending or proposed solid waste management services; and may serve on economic development boards or work with charitable institutions where local governmental officials are also serving or working. None of these contacts involve providing gifts to local governmental officials and do not appear likely to create a conflict of interest.

There is a pending written request for clarification of Chapter 176 filed with the Texas Attorney General, on February 17, 2006 (copy attached as Exhibit A). Allied reserves the right to amend this response once the Texas Attorney General's opinion is issued.

For further information, contact Raymond Franks, Market Development, Allied Waste Services of Tx., L.P. at 713 996-2007.
